of 1688. By C. D. YONGE, Regius Professor of Modern History, Queen's College, Belfast.

"A fair, succinct, useful, and masterly summary of the main causes, circumstances, and history of the Revolution, and not without some striking comments on its effects."—Standard.

"It relates the most momentous incident in the chronicle of England in the happiest and most lucid way imaginable."—Notes and Queries.

"Will be found useful to students. It is written in an interesting manner, and gives a faithful account of the Revolution of 1688."

PEACOCK'S WORKS.

The COLLECTED WORKS of THOMAS

LOVE PEACOCK, including his Novels, Poems, Fugitive Pieces, Criticisms, &c. With a Preface by Lord HOUGH-TON, and Edited by HENRY COLE, C.B. With a Biographical Sketch by his Granddaughter. 3 vols. crown 8vo, with Portrait, 31s. 6d.

"Thomas Love Peacock is a name worthy of remembrance in our literature, and his friends have done well to give the world this handsome edition of his works. It is further enriched by an admirable preface from the pen of Lord Houghton, and by a biographical sketch by his granddaughter. Lord Houghton's estimate of Peacock, and of his works is an excellent piece of true criticism, keen in analysis, full of sympathy and fine discrimination. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Cole for giving us for the first time a complete edition of all the works of Peacock in a convenient form and elegant apparel."— Standard.

By Dr. DORAN, F.S.A.

LIVES of the QUEENS of ENGLAND

of the HOUSE of HANOVER. By Dr. DORAN, F.S.A.,
Author of "Table Traits and Something on Them," &c.
New Edition, being the Fourth, revised and greatly enlarged.
2 vols. demy 8vo, 25s.

"That this pleasant book should have already reached its fourth edition is not a matter for surprise, considering the popularity of these very interesting and entertaining volumes. In the present issue the author has added a large amount of new material, and consequently has much enhanced the value of his work, which is so generally known as to need but little from us in the way of remark or criticism."— Morning Post.

THROUGH STORM and SUNSHINE. By ADON. Author of "Lays of Modern Oxford." With Illustrations by H. Paterson, M. E. Edwards, A. T., and the Author. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, gilt edges, 7s. 6d.

Second Edition, with some Notes.

The DISCIPLES. By Mrs. Hamilton King.

Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 7s. 6d.
"A very remarkable poem. The writer does not seem so much to compose as to breathe it forth; it is the fruit of intense personal feeling; it glows with the fire of an absolute conviction. It is a hymn of praise, a chant of sorrow, suffering, and glory." Saturday Review.
"Throughout, it breathes restrained passion and lofty sentiment, which flow out now and then as a stream widening to bless the lands, into powerful music." British Quarterly Review.

ON the NORTH WIND—THISTLEDOWN.

By the Hon. Mrs. WILLOUGHBY. Small crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 7s. 6d.

"Very bright, pleasant, and spontaneous verse." Times.
"Moving in incident, and touching in treatment. . . . Her ballads are not without spirit, and a description of a fight between a boy and a stag in 'Euphemias' shows genuine force." Athenaeum.

BRYANT'S POEMS. Red-line Edition.

Handsomely bound. With Illustrations and Portrait. 7s. 6d. Cheap Edition, with Frontispiece, 3s. 6d.
These are the only complete English Editions sanctioned by the Author.
"We are glad to possess so neat and elegant an edition of the works of the most thoughtful, graceful, and Wordsworthian of American poets." British Quarterly Review.

ARVAN; or, the Story of the Sword. By HERBERT TODD, M.A., late of Trinity College, Cambridge.

Crown 8vo, 6s. [Immediately.]

ROBERT BUCHANAN'S POETICAL

WORKS. 3 vols. post 8vo, with a Portrait, cloth elegant, 18s.
"To our thinking, Mr. Buchanan's power of language and of emotion is seen at its best, not in the reveries of an abstract mysticism, but in those poems with a basis of historical or legendary fact to which he has given the form of drama, such as 'Titan and Avatar' and 'The Fool of Destiny'; and of these the first is the finest." Saturday Review.

AURORA: A Volume of Verse. Fcap. 8vo, 5s.

"This theme (quotation) is illustrated with considerable power. Much of the imagery employed is equally bold and striking, and the music of some of the lines is admirably fitted to the sense." Athenaeum.

POEMS. By the Rev. J. W. Augustus

TAYLOR, M.A. Fcap 8vo, 5s.
"There is a fine spirit of contemplation in these poems, and the imagination of the author, which is singularly chastened from worldly passions, and unsolicited by the love of display, appears to offer a graceful and helpful support to the philosophy which leans upon it with a confidence proper to antique times." Pall Mall Gazette.

POEMS. By Annette F. C. Knight. Fcap. 8vo, 5s.

"Very fine also is the poem entitled 'Past and Present,' from which we take the song picturing the 'Spirits of the Present.' The verses here are so simple in form as almost to veil the real beauty and depth of the image; yet it would not be easy to find a more exquisite picture in poetry or on canvas of the spirit of the age." Societism.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT. A Dramatic

Poem. By AUBREY DE VERE, Author of "The Legends of St. Patrick." Small crown 8vo, 5s.

"A noble play. . . . The work of a true poet, and of a fine artist, in whom there is nothing vulgar and nothing weak. . . . It is terse as well as full of beauty, nervous as well as rich in thought." Spectator.

Second Edition.

SONGS OF TWO WORLDS. Second Series.

By A NEW WRITER. Fcp. 8vo, 5s.

"The 'Ode' has somewhat of the charm of 'L'Allegro' and 'Il Penseroso.' It is the nearest approach to a masterpiece in the collection." Saturday Review.
"Contains at least one poem ('The Organ Boy') of great originality, as well as many of much beauty. . . . As exquisite a little poem as we have read for many a day." Spectator.

NARCISSUS and other POEMS. By E. CARPENTER. Fcap. 8vo, 5s.

"In many of these poems there is a force of fancy, a grandeur of imagination, and a power of poetical utterance not by any means common in these days." Standard.

Second Edition.

VIGNETTES in RHYME and VERS de

SOCIÉTÉ. By AUSTIN DOBSON. Fcap. 8vo, 5s.

"As a writer of Vers de Sociétés, Mr. Dobson is almost, if not quite, unrivalled." Examiner.
"Lively, innocent, elegant in expression, and graceful in fancy." Morning Post.
"Mr. Dobson is more than a mere versifier. In two or three poems he shows a skill in painting with his pen that might raise the envy of many of his rival artists with the brush." Saturday Review.

PENELOPE and other POEMS. By Allison

HUGHES. Fcap. 8vo, 4s. 6d.
"In the shape they assume, there is much to challenge admiration, much praise, and some absolute accomplishment. If the verse moves stiffer, it is because the substance is rich and carefully wrought. That artistic regard for the value of words, which is characteristic of the best modern workmanship, is apparent in every composition, and the ornament, even when it might be pronounced excessive, is tasteful in arrangement." Athenaeum.

LYRICS OF LOVE. Selected and arranged by W. DAVENPORT ADAMS, Junior. Fcap. 8vo, cloth extra, gilt edges, 3s. 6d.

"The anthology is a very full and good one, and represents the robust school of Carew and Suckling better than any other that we know." Academy.

ENGLISH SONNETS. Collected and

Arranged by JOHN DENNIS. Fcap. 8vo. Elegantly bound. Price 3s. 6d.
"Mr. Dennis has shown great judgment in this selection." Saturday Review.

"An exquisite selection, a selection which every lover of poetry will consult again and again with delight. The notes are very useful." Spectator.

Third Edition.

HOMESONGS FOR QUIET HOURS.

Edited by the Rev. Canon R. H. BAYNES. Fcap. 8vo. Cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"These are poems in which every word has a meaning, and from which it would be unjust to remove a stanza. . . . Some of the best pieces in the book are anonymous." Pall Mall Gazette.

THE REV. SIR EDWARD REPPS JODRELL, BART.

To Messrs. FELTOE & SONS,

26 Conduit Street, Bond Street, W.

When at Sall I received an Analytical Report of your SPÉCIALITÉ SHERRY, and you must forgive me for saying that at first I regarded the whole matter as a most egregious piece of humbug. Having, however, tasted the wine in question, and found it most agreeable to the palate, I determined, on my own responsibility, to have it analysed for myself, having fully also determined previously to expose any hoax, pro bono publico, or to give you the benefit of the analysis should it turn out in your favour. I have the pleasure to forward you Professor Redwood's (of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain) Analysis, which says more than I can express. I am very particular as to the wine I drink, and as I have been hitherto buying everyday Sherry at 60s. a dozen, I am rejoiced to find now that I can purchase wine of equal strength and superior bouquet at half that price. This should be known to the general public, and you can make any use you deem proper of this letter, and also of Professor Redwood's most elaborate analysis.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed)

EDWARD REPPS JODRELL.

A VERY POPULAR NOVEL.

Ready this day, SECOND EDITION, 2 vols. with 12 Illustrations, 21s.

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD.

By THOMAS HARDY.

The Times. "This story rises to the dignity of both an idyl and a pastoral. A pathetic and very beautiful story—old, alas! as Adam and Eve, but Mr. Hardy tells it with a tenderness and freshness which have not often been surpassed in modern novels."

Athenaeum. "Mr. Hardy is, perhaps, the most vigorous of all novelists who have appeared during the last few years. His powers of description, his skill in devising 'situations,' his quaint humour, secure him a high place among novelists of any age."

Araby and Navy Gazette. "A story of exceeding interest.....A work of exceptional merit."

Spectator. "A very original and amusing story.....The production of a very high order of ability and humour.....A most amusing book....."

"Each scene is a study in itself, and, within its own limits effective. And they all fit into the story like pieces of an elaborate puzzle, making an effective whole."

Saturday Review.

"This last work of Mr. Hardy at once lifts his name above the crowd, and gives him a position among the eminent few.....It is in following the dark ways of tragic passion that Mr. Hardy's power makes itself unquestionably felt. No ordinary novel."

Graphic. "The work not only of a clever and cultivated writer and skilful literary artist, but distinctly and emphatically of a man of genius, and of genius of a very rare and high order."

John Bull.

"Those who can appreciate a really good novel will delight in the author's consummate art in the arrangement of his plot. A tale of rare literary merit."

Echo.

"Another pastoral from the pen of Mr. Hardy would have been welcome if it only equalled his former productions in merit, but this is, in many respects, superior to either of his most successful works."
